VACANCIES: Relief Support Panel in Residential Social Care

“ChildVision enhances the lives of children and young people with a visual impairment through specialist supports”

ChildVision, the national centre for the education of blind children, based in Drumcondra, Dublin 9, is seeking suitably qualified applicants to provide cover for evening/ sleepover duties within the residential service.

The relief workers will be required to assist our children and young people in their day-to-day life, including getting ready for school/college/day service, activities of daily living, meal preparation, social activities and, where required, personal care.

The relief support panel is a scheme designed to fill vacancies due to staff absence but members of the panel will never work alone or unsupported by a permanent, experienced, staff member.

Applicants should hold or be working towards a Level 7 or above degree, in a relevant subject area (Social Care, Nursing, Social Work or in a therapeutic discipline). Some experience working with people with a visual impairment and/or disabilities would be desirable, but not necessary, as induction will be provided.

Successful candidates will be paid at €14 per hour.

Interested candidates meeting the requirements should apply by email with full CV and details of three referees.
